If the central task for the language teacher is to create a climate focused on creating the context within which language acquisition can occur, then it is critical to infuse the learning environment with the target language. The Teacher Effectiveness for Language Learning Framework identifies the characteristics and behaviors exhibited by a model world language teacher and supports the need for Using the Target Language & Providing Comprehensible Input.

This Professional Learning Processing Guide will take you on a growth path that will lead to a better understanding and a plan for implementation of effective strategies when providing Comprehensible Input. You will be interacting with the following resources designed to support your professional learning. As you progress through this guide, you will explore your initial understanding of the topic, dig a little deeper into the topic, explore and try a new strategy or two, and see what it could look like in a classroom.

PROCESSING GUIDE: Comprehensible Input

Getting Familiar

Consider what you already know about “Comprehensible Input” and how much target language input you currently provide your learners. Then review the At-a-Glance Infographic and answer the questions below. Be honest in your reflections and allow yourself room for professional growth.

TIME TO REFLECT

What is the percentage of time that the input your learners receive from you or the materials your share is in the target language. What strategies do you currently use to provide comprehensible input? What are some of the reasons that you use English in your class?
